Update on Salmonella Outbreak

BLOOMINGTON- The list of recalled food products associated with a nationwide salmonella outbreak continues to grow and the McLean County Health Department has been asked by the Illinois Department of Public Health to assist the Federal Food and Drug Administration by following up with retail food establishments to ensure that implicated products have been pulled from shelves.

To date, the department's environmental health division has made 89 contacts to grocery stores, convenient stores, health care facilities and gift shops, including eight site visits.
